

DTLA 2040

The Los Angeles Department of City Planning recently announced a preliminary draft of DTLA 2040, a Downtown Community Plan to frame long-term land use, zoning and policy priorities related to downtown growth strategies. Focusing on housing, advanced mobility, and neighborhood character, a pivotal part of the Plan is inclusion of a new Community Benefits program as an incentive for developers to achieve greater densities through community-building provisions such as public amenities and affordable housing. Aligned with the City's preparations for the 2028 Olympic Games, the plan reinforces the agency's commitment to progressive land-use and transportation reform.

Join us for a curated dialogue with a panel of community leaders in an open forum as we hear how we're collectively building Los Angeles towards a better tomorrow!
